BMZ Battery Solutions Group Launches New Corporate Domain

Karlstein am Main, May 11, 2026 – BMZ Battery Solutions Group is now operating under the new corporate domain bmz-battery.com for its external communications. With this change, the company consolidates its digital presence under a domain clearly aligned with its core business in battery technology.

As part of the organizational restructuring following the acquisition of the former BMZ Group, all external communications are now being conducted via the new domain. This applies to both email communications and the company's online presence.

The external email communication of BMZ Battery Solutions Group is now conducted exclusively via the new domain @bmz-battery.com. Going forward, emails will be sent from corresponding new email addresses. Existing email addresses under bmz-group.com will remain active for a transitional period and will be automatically forwarded.

The BMZ Battery Solutions Group website is now accessible at www.bmz-battery.com. The previous domain www.bmz-group.com will remain temporarily active and will automatically redirect to the new address.

For customers, suppliers, and business partners, there are no changes to existing contacts or communication channels. The company remains fully reachable at all times.

“With the new domain, we are creating a clear and future-oriented digital identity while maintaining continuity and accessibility. At the same time, our priority in this transition was to ensure a seamless experience for our customers and partners. Reliable communication and stable business relationships are especially critical during periods of change,” says Dr. Hartung Wilstermann, CEO of BMZ Battery Solutions Group.

The new domain strengthens the company's international brand presence and underscores its focus on innovative battery and energy storage solutions.

Business partners are kindly requested to gradually update their systems and contact databases to reflect the new domain bmz-battery.com. This particularly applies to stored email addresses, automated processes, as well as any existing allowlists or spam filter configurations.

About BMZ Battery Solutions Group

BMZ Battery Solutions Group, headquartered in Karlstein am Main, Germany, is a leading international manufacturer of high-performance battery systems and a long-term technology partner in the electrification and decarbonization of key industrial sectors. The group traces its origins back to 1994 and today looks back on more than 30 years of experience in the development and industrial implementation of advanced battery systems. Since 2025, the BMZ Group has been part of SKion, an investment company founded by Susanne Klatten.

Its solutions are used worldwide across industry, e-mobility, stationary energy storage, and medical technology. With more than 1,450 highly qualified employees and over 194,000 m² of production space, BMZ Battery Solutions operates manufacturing sites in Germany, Poland, China, North Macedonia, Brazil, and the United States, as well as sales and service locations in the United Kingdom, Japan, and Hong Kong. The company focuses on developing integrated battery systems along the entire value chain - from concept development and prototyping to intelligent control systems and interface technologies, scalable series production, global service, and concepts for battery recycling and reuse (second life applications). BMZ Battery Solutions combines advanced lithium-ion technologies with alternative cell chemistries to continuously improve efficiency, safety, and sustainability, while actively shaping future market needs.
